The Fundació Universitària del Bages (FUB) informs about the use of cookies in our corporate site.

Cookies are small files which are transferred to your computer when you visit a website. They are key tools in order to offer certain information society services. Amongst other things, they allow websites to store and retrieve information about a user's browsing habits or actions from a specific device. This information allows the website to the user, improve their experience and offer them a better service.

Types of cookies

There are two main types of cookies depending on the entity operating the domain where cookies are sent and data treated: first-party cookies and third-party cookies.

They can also be classified depending on the length of time during which they remain active in the user's browser: session cookies or persistent cookies.

Finally, they can be categorised into five groups according to the purpose for which the data are processed: technical, customisation, analysis, advertising and behavioural advertising cookies.
